WILL STAY UNTIL COMPLETE ORDER HAS BEEN GAINED

GENERAL BANDHOLTZ REPORTS TO PRESIDENT MINERS RE-FUSED TO DISPERSE

ON ARRIVAL OF TROOPS MINERS
IMMEDIATELY RETURNED TO HOMES

(By United Press)
Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The United States army today was in supreme command of the state of West Virginia. Governor Morgan put General H. H. Bandholtz in command of the soldiers brought into the state. Governor Morgan issued a proclamation informing the citizens of his action and called up the state and local civil officials to give all their support to the army.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Federal troops from Camp Dix and Camp Sherman were moved into the battle zone in West Virginia today where the war between thousands of miners and deputies continued unabated.

Fighting was expected to cease upon the troops arrival for the miners announced their intention of going home as soon as the regular soldiers arrived.

Reports from the fighting around Logan today declared that bombs had been dropped from airplanes upon the attacking miners and that fighting continued through the night.

The imposition of martial law in Logan and Boone counties was considered by President Harding and the cabinet.

The proclamation of martial law which has not been used under similar circumstances since shortly after the Civil war days, will be promulgated only if the miners openly resist the federal troops, Secretary of War Weeks indicated.

Federal troops were ordered into the West Virginia coal fields shortly after 4 a. m. by Major General James G. Harbord, acting chief of staff, and Adjutant General Harris, who remained at the war department to keep close watch on the situation. First forces to reach the war area will be the twenty-sixth infantry from Camp Dix, and the nineteenth infantry from Camp Sherman. Reports to the war department early today showed that these troops have already entrained.

Decision to send federal troops into the coal fields was reached after the receipt of a report from General H. H. Bandholtz, of Charleston, in which he said the miners were not dispersing in accordance with the command of President Harding.

"I am satisfied that the miners will not obey the president's proclamation," Bandholtz said. "I request that federal troops be sent immediately."

The first of the federal forces are expected to reach the trouble zone late today. The entire force will be under the command of General Bandholtz.

All modern war equipments are at the command of Bandholtz and will be used if necessary. Squadrons of airplanes will be used for reconnoitering purposes and machine guns are available for any emergency.

The troops will stay in the war zone until complete order is restored and preparations have been made to supply them with sufficient provisions for any action that may be necessary.

Troops Arrival Signal to Stop Firing.

Harold Jacobs, with the Miners in the Field, Logan county, by carrier to Madison, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Messengers arriving at the miners' field headquarters here today said messages that federal troops were on their way were greeted with cheers from the embattled ranks.

Word of the government's action was rushed to the firing line and spread through the hills from mouth to mouth. Everywhere it was taken as a signal to prepare to stop fighting.

Desultory fighting continued however along this section of the line.

Developments following the arrival of federal troops on the scene of hostilities will be awaited before a promulgation of martial law is proclaimed, it was indicated today.

Leaving the White House Secretary of War Weeks said he wanted to get further details from General H. H. Bandholtz about the situation in the coal fields before he decides whether it would be necessary to resort to martial law.

FIERCE FIGHTING BETWEEN MINERS, DEPUTY SHERIFFS

AIRPLANES WERE SAID TO BE
DROPPING BOMBS—NO REPORTS OF CASUALTIES.

(By United Press)
Logan, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Reports that airplanes had dropped bombs on the homes and gathering places of the miners in the Hewitt and Crooked creek sections, reached here early today. Four airplanes were reported to have dropped the bombs. The report here did not make clear whether there were any casualties or whose planes were involved.

The planes soaring from the ball park were on a mission of destruction and flew over the objective territory at an altitude of about one thousand feet.

Miners and their families fled into the open in an effort to escape danger it was reported.

Several places where miners have been congregating were wrecked, the report said. The call for action in the air it was reported, was sent out by the left flank of the Logan defense attacking along Crooked creek after the miners had driven the defense back under heavy fire.

The fighting blazed forth afresh today. Scouts reported to county headquarters that the entire twenty-five mile front was undergoing the heaviest firing since hostilities opened.

State forces were said to be holding their ground on Blair mountain and near Mill creek Sheriff Chafin ordered all available forces to the front line. Additional men and machine guns were going into the mountain section as fast as automobile could carry them.

Townpeople were anxiously awaiting the arrival of federal troops. They openly expressed fear that unless hostilities ceased before midnight serious consequences might result.

A fierce battle has been waged in the Crooked creek district and the defenders, it was reported, were in a bad position until they had retreated to Crooked creek mountain where they mounted machine guns on the mountain slope in a position from which they could rake the miners' ranks.

Captain Hollingworth, of Huntington, in command of fifty men, of the left wing reported two of his men were wounded and that a number of miners had been picked off by his men.

Battle In Progress.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 2.—A battle is in progress along a ten mile front in the vicinity of Blair mountain and Crooked creek, it was reported to government officials today.

Several thousand men were said to be engaged, with each still at about the same strength. One report placed the total forces engaged at ten thousand.

Seventy-five automobile truck loads with miners and ammunition passed through Lens Creek last night, the governor announced.

Air scouts during the afternoon reported that at least five miners were killed in the last engagement. Reports to Sheriff Chafin were that one defender had been wounded. The frenzied firing today centered near Blair mountain, Crooked Creek and Mill Creek. Reinforcements for both sides arrived throughout the morning. All available men in Logan county summoned to aid some forces in McDowell, Mingo and surrounding counties arrived.

Scouts here sent information that truck loads of men lined the roads leading to the front. Supplies and other necessities were also taken forward the airman said. The skirmishes had settled into a stubborn engagement at noon with both factions resting on their positions continuously to maintain the constant bombing with machine guns and rifles.

STATE FORESTER COX ANNOUNCES—MUCH DAMAGE DONE IN RANGE COUNTRY

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—Approximately 30 forest fires are burning along the iron range and nearby territory, according to W. T. Cox, state forester, who returned today from the forest fire country.

A light rain near Warroad last night checked a fire that looked serious yesterday.

FOUR BANDITS MURDER TWO NEAR MILWAUKEE, WIS.

GAIN ENTRANCE TO HOUSE BY
RUSE—SHOOT AND KILL FARMER AND WIFE

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 2.—A posse today continued the search for the four bandits who murdered Mrs. Sophia Hoyer, 43, and perhaps fatally wounded Moritz Hoyer, 50, and shot Miss Emily Hoyer, 19, at the Hoyer farm home eighteen miles north of this city on the Port Washington road last night.

Gaining entrance into the house on a pretext of using the telephone two of the bandits ordered the occupants to hold up their hands. Mrs. Hoyer, not understanding English, hesitated and the bandits at once opened fire. She fell with two bullet wounds in her forehead and one in her side. Mr. Hoyer, who was upstairs, rushed down at the sound of the shots fired and he was greeted with a bullet. He fell mortally wounded.

Emily was wounded when three bullets were sent into her arm. She will be crippled for life. Posse were formed and search continued through the night without success. The bandits were not more than twenty-three years of age and amateurs, according to the officials.

A railroad bridge on the Great Northern near Deer River was burned during the forest fires yesterday. A house near Sturgeon lake was also destroyed. The fire centered around Hibbing and Buhl and a dense cloud of smoke hung over the range. Fire burned close to buildings in several places.

NEW PROHIBITION AGENT GETS BUSY

UNCOVERS BIG ALCOHOL RING IN MINNEAPOLIS—ARRESTS
POLICEMAN

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Sept. 2.—Arrest of a policeman and seizure of 280 gallons of alcohol here will lead to an expose equal to the noted Winnipeg-Minneapolis whiskey smuggling conspiracy, prohibition officials said today.

Patrolman Thomas Russell was arrested by four prohibition agents under the direction of S. B. Qvale, who became prohibition enforcement chief for this district only yesterday.

Russell said he would be killed if he divulged names of others implicated in the alcohol ring that he said included powerful men in the city and county. Agents went to Russell's home last night armed with a search warrant. Mrs. Russell refused to admit them thinking they were bandits. While she telephoned her husband who was down town, their fourteen year old daughter covered the agents with a revolver. Russell soon arrived accompanied by the police gun squad. Satisfied with the identity of the agents the gun squad left and the agents seized a large quantity of alcohol.

Restoring First Home of U. S. Supreme Court

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Workmen today are carefully tearing away all the "modern" work on the old Supreme Court Building here, one of the Independence Hall group of historical structure, in order to get down to the original ancient structure.

The old building was the home of the first United States Supreme Court from 1791 to 1800, and was Philadelphia City Hall from 1791 to 1854. When the original structure is reached through the modern "improvement" work done on the building, it will be reconstructed in its original form. This work will cost $55,000.

Several interesting points in the construction of the old structure already have been brought to light by the workmen—old-fashioned stairways, doors and passages which were torn away or filled in when the building was "improved," and dark, damp dungeons in the cellar of the building, where the city's prisoners were kept in the days before the Civil War. Another interesting feature is the way the second floor is actually suspended from the roof. Instead of rafters, huge beams, with heavy iron hooks looping over the roof supports, hold up the floor.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS ON THE INCREASE

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—Growth of infantile paralysis continues. Nine more cases were reported by the state board of health today. St. Paul had three more cases while one more was found in Minneapolis.

FOUR BANDITS MURDER TWO NEAR
MILWAUKEE, WIS.

GAIN ENTRANCE TO HOUSE BY
RUSE—SHOOT AND KILL FARMER AND WIFE

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 2.—A posse today continued the search for the four bandits who murdered Mrs. Sophia Hoyer, 43, and perhaps fatally wounded Moritz Hoyer, 50, and shot Miss Emily Hoyer, 19, at the Hoyer farm home eighteen miles north of this city on the Port Washington road last night.

Gaining entrance into the house on a pretext of using the telephone two of the bandits ordered the occupants to hold up their hands. Mrs. Hoyer, not understanding English, hesitated and the bandits at once opened fire. She fell with two bullet wounds in her forehead and one in her side. Mr. Hoyer, who was upstairs, rushed down at the sound of the shots fired and he was greeted with a bullet. He fell mortally wounded.

Emily was wounded when three bullets were sent into her arm. She will be crippled for life. Posse were formed and search continued through the night without success. The bandits were not more than twenty-three years of age and amateurs, according to the officials.

Forest Fires Did
Considerable Damage
Near Hibbing and Buhl

(By United Press)

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 2.—The high wind which yesterday fanned forest fires and brush fires over the iron range, had died down today and there was no serious damage, Forest Ranger D. L. McIntosh reported today.

A railroad bridge on the Great Northern near Deer River was burned during the forest fires yesterday. A house near Sturgeon lake was also destroyed. The fire centered around Hibbing and Buhl and a dense cloud of smoke hung over the range. Fire burned close to buildings in several places.

NEW POSTOFFICE
INSPECTOR APPOINTED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—W. J. Marles today was appointed postoffice inspector in charge of the St. Paul division covering Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota.

He succeeds Robert H. Barclay who was appointed postoffice inspector in charge last June.

Marles has been postoffice inspector for eighteen years having worked in every state in the union. He has had charge of several of the government's most important mail fraud investigations during these eighteen years, among them the prosecution of officials of the Pan Motor Company, of St. Cloud, which resulted in the conviction of S. C. Pandolfo, president, and his sentence to prison.

NEW PROHIBITION
AGENT GETS BUSY

UNCOVERS BIG ALCOHOL RING IN
MINNEAPOLIS—ARRESTS
POLICEMAN

(By United Press.)

Minneapolis, Sept. 2.—Arrest of a policeman and seizure of 250 gallons of alcohol here will lead to an expose equal to the noted Winnipeg-Minneapolis whiskey smuggling conspiracy, prohibition officials said today.

Patrolman Thomas Russell was arrested by four prohibition agents under the direction of S. B. Qvale, who became prohibition enforcement chief for this district only yesterday.

Russell said he would be killed if he divulged names of others implicated in the alcohol ring that he said included powerful men in the city and county. Agents went to Russell's home last night armed with a search warrant. Mrs. Russell refused to admit them thinking they were bandits. While she telephoned her husband who was down town, their fourteen year old daughter covered the agents with a revolver. Russell soon arrived accompanied by the police gun squad. Satisfied with the identity of the agents the gun squad left and the agents seized a large quantity of alcohol.

NO DECISION ON STREET CAR FARE RAISE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—Judge J. C. Michael, Ramsey county district court, had not rendered his decision in the matter of increasing street car fares for St. Paul up to 2 p. m. today. Because of the large quantity of evidence to go over and the importance of the matter, Judge Michael prefers to give it full consideration and probably will not announce his decision until tomorrow morning.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Team-Work in Marketing.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 2.—The value of team work in marketing their produce is appealing to North Dakota farmers. Two hundred livestock shipping associations are now functioning in the state, according to W. R. Porter, marketing specialist of the agricultural college. A few cream co-operative associations have also been formed.

Generosity of Motorists.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pass, Socialist newspaper writers, vouch for the generosity of motorists. Although they started out to hike from Seattle to New York, where they will be employed on the New York Call, they find themselves more riding than walking. It took them five weeks to cover the ground between the coast and Fargo. Pass was recently from prison, where he served as a "conscientious objector."

$1,479,759 PAID
ON ACCOUNT WORK-
MEN'S INSURANCE

IN 11,096 CASES, 134 OF WHICH
WERE FATAL—AVERAGE
CLAIM $133.00

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—Payment of workmen's compensation during the fiscal year ending June 30 totals $1,479,709, figures prepared by the state industrial commission today show. This payment covers 11,096 cases.

Of this number of accidents 134 were fatal, with compensation of $139,102, an average payment of $1,859, but twenty-two of the cases were without dependents.

There were 9,930 of temporary disability with awards totalling $557,766. This averages only $59. The average for all classes is $133.

Working days lost by all accidents number 1,937,383, an average of 35.7 per cent for each case. Wages lost to workmen total $987,680. Under the compensation rate the workman suffers a loss of 62.8 per cent, compensation being only 37.2 per cent. Injuries were more numerous in mining districts according to this report. Mine workers injured numbered 1,426 with a loss to the men of $250,909.

FIRE DESTROYS WOODYARDS OF
PAPER COMPANY

(By United Press)

Port Edwards, Wis., Sept. 2.—Fire accompanied by high wind totally destroyed the wood yards of the Edwards-Nekoosa Paper company here late yesterday. Damage was estimated at more than $500,000 today by officials of the company.

The flames fanned by the wind, scorched houses within two blocks and on several occasions set them on fire. The loss from these blazes was slight however.

Restoring First Home
of U. S. Supreme Court

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Workmen today are carefully tearing away all the "modern" work on the old Supreme Court Building here, one of the Independence Hall group of historical structure, in order to get down to the original ancient structure.

The old building was the home of the first United States Supreme Court from 1791 to 1800, and was Philadelphia City Hall from 1791 to 1854. When the original structure is reached through the modern "improvement" work done on the building, it will be reconstructed in its original form. This work will cost $55,000.

Several interesting points in the construction of the old structure already have been brought to light by the workmen—old-fashioned stairways, doors and passages which were torn away or filled in when the building was "improved," and dark, damp dungeons in the cellar of the building, where the city's prisoners were kept in the days before the Civil War. Another interesting feature is the way the second floor is actually suspended from the roof. Instead of rafters, huge beams, with heavy iron hooks looping over the roof supports, hold up the floor.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS
ON THE INCREASE

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—Growth of infantile paralysis continues. Nine more cases were reported by the state board of health today. St. Paul had three more cases while one more was found in Minneapolis.

Cases from the following counties were recorded today: Morrison, Blue Earth, Cass, Murray and Wadena.

Neglected to Report Bags

HOME WEDDING

Miss Veda Ferguson and Ray Purdy
Married at Home of Bride's Parents

(From Bozeman Daily Chronicle of Aug. 18)

The marriage of two of Bozeman's most highly esteemed young people took place Wednesday evening, when Miss Veda Ferguson was given in marriage to Ray A. Purdy at a pretty wedding at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Douglas Ferguson on West Mendonhall street, the Rev. Arthur Stevenson of Kenion, Ohio, performing the double ring ceremony. In the presence of nearly 100 guests, relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. Before the ceremony, Miss Katherine Story sang "Dedication" by Schumann, with Mrs. R. O. Wilson as accompanist. Mrs. Wilson then played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party marched in. The groom and best man, Lucien Benepe, following the minister, and the bride on the arm of her brother, Douglas, being preceded by little Ray Phillip Purdy, nephew of the groom, as ring bearer little Miss Virginia Poor as flower girl, Mrs. C. H. Hefferlin of Livingston, matron of honor, Mrs. W. N. Purdy and Mrs. J. Harold Dickson attendants. The bride was given in marriage by her brother.

It was a candle light, sweet pea wedding, the bridal party standing in a bower of ferns and palms in the circle room, where white sweet peas were artistically combined with gypsophelia and smilax. Pink sweet peas in various tints were used in the other rooms with pink candles, and in the dining room a basket of pink roses decorated the table. Beautiful sprays of single pink hollyhocks and foliage decorated the stairway.

The bride's wedding dress was white satin with silver lace embroidery, a beautiful affair, and she wore a wedding veil attached to a crown of real rose point lace, having trimming of the same. She carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. W. N. Purdy was attired in a green taffeta, and her bouquet was a shower of pink roses. Mrs. Dickson wore a gold brocade and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The ring bearer was in white satin and the flower girl in flesh colored organdy.

Excellent refreshments were served in the dining room, Mrs. John M. Robinson and Mrs. F. L. Benepe pouring, while Miss Marie Waterman, Mrs. Raymond Lewis, Miss Maurine Piew, Miss Josephine Howard and Miss Elmyra McCay assisted in directing and serving the guests, the attractive bride's cake and groom's cake being cut first by the bride and groom. Miss Katherine Lyon met the guests at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy received many beautiful and useful wedding gifts. Their wedding trip will include a tour of the Glacier National park, and on their return they will go to house-keeping in the Ray Holloway apartment in the Blackmore.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Douglas Ferguson, for many years prominent citizens of Bozeman, Mr. Ferguson being in the early days of the city, a teacher in the city schools and for many years engaged in business here and in farming in the valley. On account of his health he has retired from active business. Veda graduated from Gallatin county high school, attended Montana State college one year and then went to Laselle seminary at Auburndale, Massachusetts, where she graduated. She has been prominent in the social life of the city and has a host of friends.

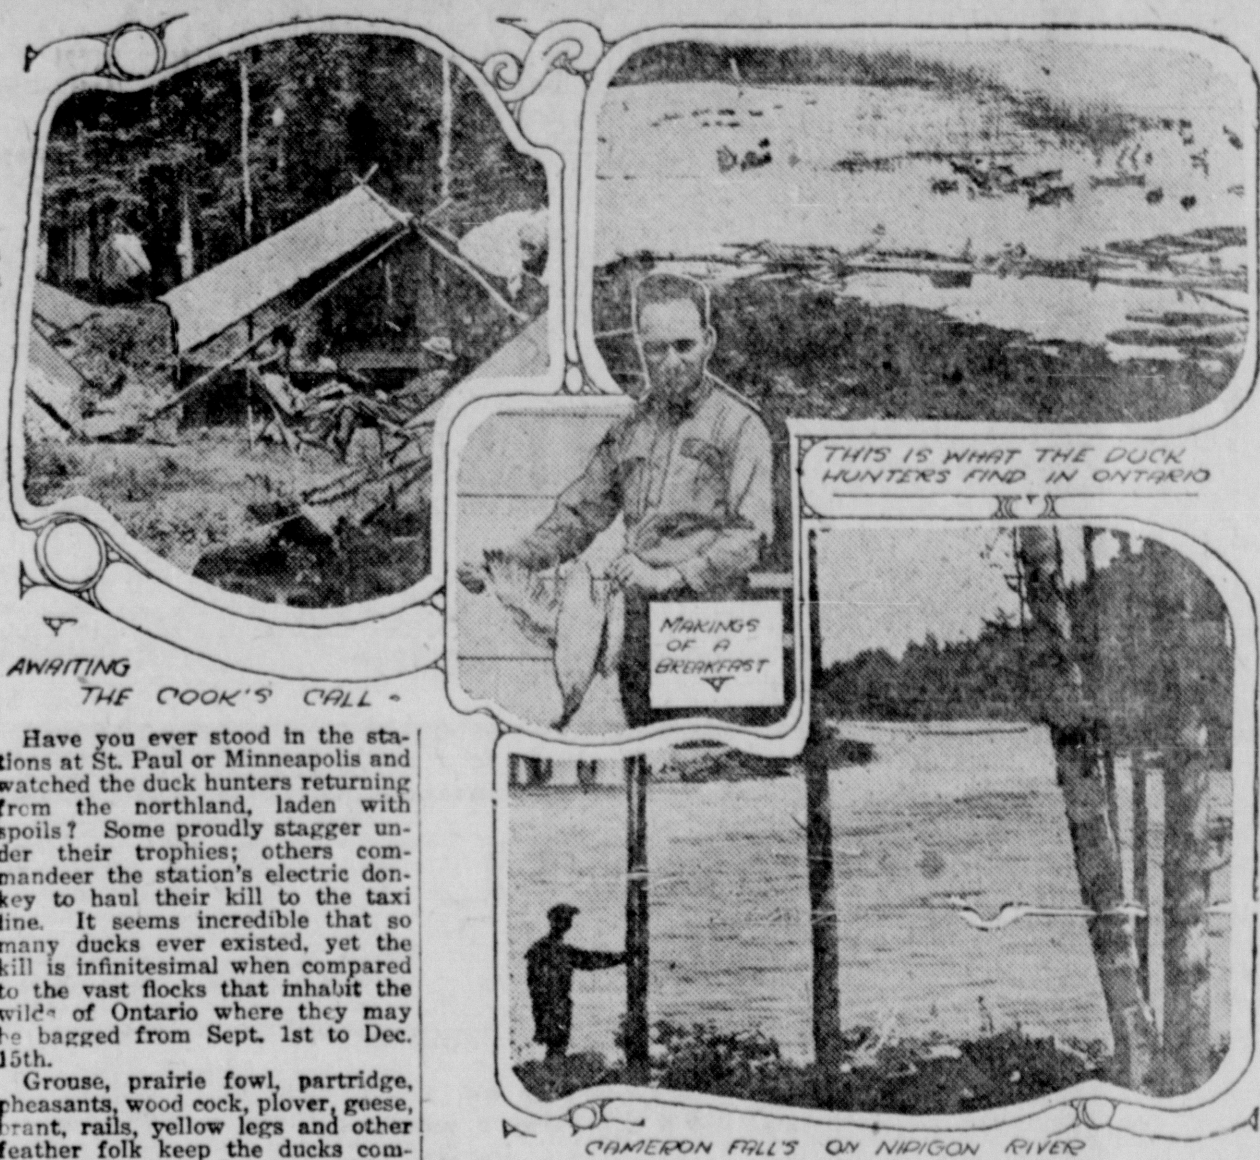

The groom is a son of the late A. Purdy and his wife of Brainerd, Minnesota. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and is a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. He came to Bozeman about nine years ago and has been engaged in business here ever since except during the time he was in war service, being overseas for some time in the World war. He has many friends in the community, as well as in his former home.

Among those from out of the city, who were present at the wedding were Mrs. A. Purdy, of Brainerd, Minnesota, mother of the groom; Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of Detroit, Michigan, aunt of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Chisholm, of East Helena; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hefferlin, of Livingston; Mrs. Carrie Cline, of Wilsall; Mrs. G. W. Chandler of Los Angeles, California, aunt of the bride, with their daughter Miss Beniah Lewis; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Peterson, of Three Forks and Mrs. W. M. Pearce of Manhattan.

Attractive Nursery.

If in a child's room there is not nursery wallpaper and pictures, one can make an attractive room by pinning pictures of children and animals on the walls. The young child learning to talk will find much pleasure in naming the objects in the pictures.

"OVER THE BORDER" FOR FISH AND BIRDS AND BIG GAME

AWAITING THE COOK'S CALL

Have you ever stood in the stations at St. Paul or Minneapolis and watched the duck hunters returning from the northland, laden with spoils? Some proudly stagger under their trophies; others commandeer the station's electric donkey to haul their kill to the taxi line. It seems incredible that so many ducks ever existed, yet the kill is infinitesimal when compared to the vast flocks that inhabit the wilds of Ontario where they may be bagged from Sept. 1st to Dec. 15th.

Grouse, prairie fowl, partridge, pheasants, woodcock, plover, geese, brant, rails, yellow legs and other feather folk keep the ducks company and tempt the man with a gun. September in the Ontario wilds is a time of genuine delight. The days have a pleasant warmth, the nights are invigoratingly cool; one awakens refreshed and ready to attack the camp breakfast. The popularity of the Ontario hunting grounds north of Minnesota and Lake Superior, is attested by the annually increasing number of sportsmen who make it their goal. In the spring, fishermen stream northward by every train leaving Chicago. Their numbers are augmented as the train progresses. They are headed for Lake-of-the-Woods and Nipigon and the maze of streams and lakes that cover the western part of the province. In the fall, the hunters follow wearing expressions of expectancy on the way up and of satisfaction on the return trip. This district is not only a fish and bird country, it is also a land of big game. Some of the finest moose heads are brought down hereabouts while deer are every big game hunter's portion. A large game camp, opened this season at Nipigon, fills a long felt need for more abundant accommodation at that point, and Bass Lake, a few miles distant by easy portage, offers many fine camping sites and exceptional fishing.

Salt and Dampness.

Salt is what is called "hygroscopic," that is, it eagerly absorbs moisture. In fact, both air and salt are absorbers of moisture and it is a contest between them as to which gets it. Results depend on atmospheric conditions. Ordinary atmosphere always contains a proportion of moisture, and warm air is apt to be more humid than cold, as it absorbs and holds water vapor more readily than cold air. Salt has such affinity for moisture that under such conditions it draws it from the air. When the air becomes dry, the moisture is given up by the salt, which in turn becomes dry as it returns the moisture to the air.

Francesco Petrarch.

It is said that the great Italian poet, Francesco Petrarch, died, almost exactly to the day, 70 years after his birth. There seem to be conflicting dates regarding his precise day of birth and death, although the variance is very little. One account says that he died July 19, 1374.—Chicago Journal.

THOUSANDS SEE OPENING BATTLE FOR DAVIS CUP

AMERICAN STARS DEFEND TENNIS TITLE AT FOREST HILLS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, L. I., Sept. 2.—On the velvet green courts of the West Side Tennis Club, surrounded by scenes of picturesque beauty, the Davis Cup, perhaps the most prized trophy in the world, becomes the spoils for an international conflict today.

America, possessor of the cup by the brilliant victory over Australia last winter, defends her right to the title of world's tennis champion against Japan, the survivor of the battle of twelve nations.

America will find her colors on two of the greatest players in the history of the game. William T. Tilden, the world's singles champion, and William M. Johnston, the wiry little bundle of California nerves. On the sidelines, ready for call, are Richard Norris Williams, the Harvard star and national champion of 1914 and 1916, and Watson Washburn, veteran internationalist.

Ten thousand spectators, numbering the elite of American society, prominent state and federal officials, international diplomats and the ordinary tennis fans are expected in the stands at two o'clock, when two singles matches will start the three days' battle for the cup.

America, with the same players who won the cup last winter from Australia by the overwhelming score of 5 to 0, is favored to win the battle and retain the cup for at least another year. Tennis is not a betting game, but those followers of the court with a leaning toward friendly wagers were giving odds of 7 to 5 on the two "American Bills."

RUNNYMEDE SAVED

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 2.—The hammer shall not fall tonight, or words to that effect, on historic Runnymede. This old marsh, where was signed the Magna Charta, has been taken from the auctioneer's list, after a storm of indignation, had risen to prevent the site from being sold.

This venerable place, that witnessed the origin of constitutions as used in all English-speaking countries, has heretofore been owned by the government as "Crown property." It was put up for sale by auction last year, along with many other bits of land, but before it was sold, persons alive to its historical interest began protesting. A parson threatened to throw into the lake any auctioneer who would be so audacious as to try to sell it.

Finally, after an intense newspaper campaign, members of Parliament began asking the ministers questions as to the sale. It has now been announced that Runnymede will remain government property.

It was on June 12, 1215, that King John camped with his army on the site, and with the advice of his barons, drew up the charter and signed it.

With the extension of touring, especially by Americans, Runnymede has become more and more important, and the number of its visitors from all parts of the world grow annually.

African Salt.

A report made to the French Society of Biology shows that 25,000,000 human beings in the Congo region commonly employ salt of potassium instead of salt of sodium for seasoning their food. They obtain this salt from the ashes of certain plants. Since the opening up of the country ordinary salt has been largely imported, but the negroes regard it as insipid, and abandon with regret the use of their familiar ashes. They take the imported salt only because it is cheap.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALT'S FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have back ache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

COAL PROFITEERING.

J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, who last week issued a report on the coal situation in this state, is quoted as saying he "expects a storm to break in Washington in December on the coal problem when Congress resumes its regular sessions."

It is certainly high time for a "storm" to break out somewhere, when it is shown in Mr. Hay's report that one man handles—or directs the handling of 850,000 tons out of a total of 1,500,000 tons of anthracite coal passing through the Head of the Lakes, and that this one man fixes the price of all the coal.

The need of Congressional regulation is evident. Action was postponed on two bills for regulation, which were before Congress at the last session, but there is some prospect of getting favorable action at the December session. Surely, where basic necessities, such as food, clothing and fuel, are concerned, the government should charge itself with responsibility so that labor, capital and the public will not be imposed upon. Proper regulations would provide for this. It is unfortunate, however, with the prevailing high prices for coal, that there seems to be no way at this time of checking the extortionate demands of the coal profiteer.

TO MAKE "PROHIBITION PROHIBIT."

It is announced from St. Paul that a state-wide organization of volunteer and professional investigators, under the direction of a committee of "old guard" prohibitionists, is to shortly begin gathering evidence of liquor law violations and of official laxity in enforcing the prohibition statutes in Minnesota. The failure of officials to stop the sale of liquor has stirred up the dry leaders throughout the state, and after considerable heated discussion, informal steps are being taken by some of the most active to improve conditions if possible. A determined effort is to be made to make the laws more effective.

AFTER AUTO TAX DODGERS.

Secretary of State Holm has notified the local police officials in each county to prosecute all motor vehicle owners who attempt to evade the payment of motor tax licenses, or misuse license certificates and plates. Reports of many alleged violations are reaching Secretary Holm's office. Mr. Holm thinks it is only fair to those who have paid their just share of the tax that others be required to do their part and pay the penalty of neglect of duty. Those guilty of violating the law will be charged with misdemeanors.

There is undoubtedly a great deal of truth in the declaration of Congressman Fear of Wisconsin, that "the public and business men will have to wake up to the fact that normalcy does not depend any more on the tariff, taxes or on congress than it depends on industrial concerns themselves, if they wish to realize an early business readjustment."

A bulletin showing conditions on trunk routes is issued weekly by the State Highway Department, and this week an "extra" was sent out for the information of thousands planning to travel by automobile to the "twin cities" for the state fair. Patrolmen on all routes were ordered to make special efforts to smooth the road for travelers to the fair.

There were 805,228 immigrants admitted to the United States during the fiscal year just ended, as compared with 430,001 for the previous year and an average of 1,034,940 during pre-war days from 1910 to 1914.

MEADE MEMORIAL
THING OF BEAUTY

STATUE SOON TO BE PLACED IN THE BOTANICAL GARDENS
IN WASHINGTON.

COMPARES WELL WITH ANY

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—What is conceded to be one of the handsomest works of art of its kind ever erected in the District of Columbia, is the Meade Memorial, which will be placed in position in the botanic gardens shortly. This tribute to Maj. Gen. George G. Meade, who commanded the army of the Potomac at the battle of Gettysburg, is to be in the form of a white stone statue of heroic size and with an elaborate base. It will serve as a companion piece to the Grant memorial in the botanic gardens.

Col. Clarence O. Sherrill, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, is of the opinion that the Meade memorial will compare favorably with any park statue anywhere in the world. It is the work of Charles Groslys of Gloucester, Mass., designer and sculptor, who has worked for more than six years on the creation of the statue. He already has started cutting the statue from stone, following designs submitted and approved by the fine arts commission, and in the meantime the work of constructing the base in the botanic gardens is under way.

Will Portray Virtues.

In describing the memorial, Colonel Sherrill said:

"The problem provoked by the chosen site for the Meade memorial dictated a form which should be equal in interest and fullness of workmanship from every vantage point. Working upon this basis, the artist conceived a circle of figures which should embody the qualities which are essential to the character of a great general. These six qualities—Military Courage, Energy, Fame, Loyalty, Chivalry and Progress—while recognizing their origin in the spirit of war, look toward General Meade as the composite of their several virtues.

"The figure of General Meade is thus rendered the center of the artistic design, and the focal point in the imaginative conception. He stands, his work accomplished, ready to step forth from the cloak of battle into the future era of progress. Chivalry (at his right) and Loyalty (at his left), hold back the cloak, while Loyalty also raises aloft over Meade's head a standard of wreath and garlands, in commemoration of a great achievement. Fame and Progress occupy the central position (right and left) on either side of the group. Fame, with the urge ever upward and on, strains for a clearer vision of her object. Her well-rounded figure, man-born, typifies the mortal striving for that which is just beyond, and carries with it a sense of unrest and of perpetual movement.

Progress Shown Ideal.

"The figure of Progress, on the other hand, is dynamic in the strength of its own potentialities. It is a figure which more nearly approximates the ideal, and which will gather from its own being the wings of action. To its left, Military Courage clings with bulldog tenacity to the dominant figure of the rear group, War, from which it takes its being. To the left of War, the figure of Energy yielding to the urge of Fame, loosens his grasp upon the arm of War, quivering for the greater achievement yet to come. War, itself, occupying the central position in the rear group, a massive architectural figure, unchanging and unchanged since war first ravaged the world, holds in his grim clutch two memorial tablets. His wings, in long sweeping curves, stretch toward the standard which Loyalty holds above the head of Meade. The side groups are thus outlined against the ominous shadow of the wings of War.

"From the grim determination of Military Courage through the figure of Energy to the figures of Chivalry and Loyalty, the urge is onward and forward toward Progress and Fame, which, alone, of the group have the power to move with General Meade into the accomplishment of the future. Although his dark wings may carry him through other ages and other lands, War will ever remain the same, unchanging. But the great general will move forward, leaving behind him the static, symbolized in the figures of war and of military courage. The command is 'forward!'

"Glass Plumbing" New Trade.

The introduction of the vacuum-tube light has brought into existence the new trade of "glass plumbing," says the Christian Science Monitor. The glass tubes in which the light is produced by an electric current flowing through a gaseous conductor, are 1 1/2 inches in diameter and are put up in lengths of about 8 1/2 feet, and hermetically sealed in place. For the purpose of this work a set of glass blower's instruments has been invented, including cutting tools, blowers and hand torches and experts perform the necessary operations with surprising rapidity.

For many years a widely featured newspaper writer, Miss Loeb has had every opportunity for getting first-hand information in matters of vital interest to the public. She is regarded as one of the highest authorities on industrial welfare in the United States, and her success is due chiefly to the fact that she always maintains the human point of view in her writings.

"The Woman God Sent," which will be shown at the Lyceum theater tonight is an excellent example of Miss Loeb's insight into basic conditions, and illustrates her ability to weave the facts of life into a story engrossing and striking. It reaches to the heart of conditions, political, industrial and social, and depicts the unusual spectacle of a father and daughter fighting each other politically. Skillfully planned, interestingly portrayed, it provides many an exciting moment.

"The Child Thou Gavest Me"

The beribboned and tagged automobile in which they were to start on their honeymoon journey was sent away without them. He took her to his home—and there they spent their honeymoon, with the specter of tragedy hovering over them at every moment.

It was a house divided; love had flown ere the wedding bells had ceased ringing. There were no lovers' kisses; no endearing words—only suspicion and distrust.

For on their wedding night the husband had made a discovery which had shattered his dreams—the discovery that his bride had a son. He kept the world in ignorance by adopting the boy and taking him to his home, but there was a purpose for it.

So the man laid his plans. He invited others to his home, including his bride's former sweethearts, and watched them surreptitiously. He was trying to find one whom he swore to kill—and he left no stone unturned in his search for that one.

Came the day when he was sure, and his revolver barked. But suddenly came enlightenment. He had shot the wrong man. The man he was seeking was—

This, in part, is the story of "The Child Thou Gavest Me," which will be shown Fri. and Sat. at the New Park theatre. It would be unfair to tell the ending of the plot—one of the most unusual and extraordinary ever seen on the screen.

LIBRARY NEEDS TOLD ROTARIANS

At Weekly Luncheon Friday Noon,
Mrs W C Rasch of Library Board is the Speaker

GIVES HISTORY OF LIBRARY

A Budget as Outlined by Miss Baldwin, State Librarian. Amounts to $3032.70

At the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary club, held at the Ransford hotel, the speaker was Mrs. W. C. Rasch, member of the Brainerd public library board, who voiced the history, progress and needs of that institution of the city and pleaded for a large budget, thus permitting more extended use of the library.

At the conclusion of her address she showed what the library budget for a town like Brainerd should be, $3032.70, as estimated by Miss Clara Baldwin, the state librarian. Brainerd's budget, on the other hand, was only $1284, about a third of what is required to make the library something of usefulness to the hundreds of school children, adults and the many summer tourists in Brainerd.

Mrs. W. C. Rasch spoke in part as follows to the Rotarians:

"A little more than two years ago our new mayor, then, called me and asked me if I would fill an unexpired term on the library board.

"At the time I wondered why he asked me as I felt so incapable of taking such a position. It seemed to me that it was a place for a person of much better education and broader experience than I had.

"However I consented to take it thinking if it meant work, as so many places of that sort do, I could at least work. I went with much fear and trembling as to what might be expected of me and after a couple of meetings found that we did need some one to work.

"I found that the first great necessity was to get a quorum out and after walking 20 blocks for a couple or three meeting nights for nothing, I proceeded to take it upon myself to call each member on that day and remind them of the meeting. In that manner we succeeded in securing at least a quorum and frequently more. Since then the only time we have failed to get a quorum is when a member is out of town such as the meeting in December and this year in July.

"The first important piece of business, after the new board got to working, was the fixing of the roof.

"There seemed to have been several repairs made but still the roof leaked.

"We called in a contractor and he told us how it should be fixed and said at the time that he had told the board before it was the only way.

The members had not wanted it fixed that way 'because', they said, 'it will spoil the architecture'.

"We thought however better spoil the architecture than the whole of the interior, books included.

"So we had it fixed at a cost of over $700 and so far it hasn't given us any more trouble.

"I would like to state here that we would not have been able to have had it done unless we had borrowed money for it, and had the council not kindly donated the library board $500.

"Through fines and rentals, a donation of $25 from Con O'Brien and two benefit shows donated by the Brainerd Amusement Co. we have been able to keep up our fiction books in fairly good shape.

"This leaves practically nothing for non-fiction. The non-fiction is very essential to the high school and can you not see how our boys and girls of high school are handicapped by not being able to get in to the library every day and evening.

"Imagine some 80 or 90 pupils trying to find something on some subject assigned in one set of reference books. It is almost impossible for children to use the library when it is only open every other day and teachers cannot always assign lessons a week ahead.

"Then our librarian tells us that we have people from all over the U. S. coming here for the summer who want to use the library and are so surprised that a town of this size has its library open only three afternoons and two evenings a week.

"About a year and a half ago we opened the library two evenings and in the past year the use of books of non-fiction has increased from 11 3-10 per cent to 23 3-10 per cent and the use of fiction books has increased 49 per cent and the average daily attendance at the reading tables increased from 20 to 37 people or 85 per cent.

"We feel positive that these figures are due in a great measure to the evening openings.

"I am going to now give you some of the figures which Miss Baldwin,

RUBY TEMPLE

The above is a picture of Ruby Temple, age 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Temple of Pillager post-office, former residents of Brainerd, who was lost two nights in the swamps and woods and was sought by a thousand shopmen of Brainerd and by scores of farmers from many communities.

The first night her dog was her protector and he engaged in combat with a skunk and a bobcat. She went to sleep with the dog by her side and when she awoke the dog was gone.

The second night she heard cars buzzing about, but was afraid to call out for fear of arousing more wild animals. She was found the morning of the third day, and the little girl never lost confidence that her papa would find her some time.

The photograph of little Ruby was secured from John W. Curo, county surveyor, a friend of the family and the cut was made by another friend, John A. Hoffbauer.

Otto Pearson of St. Cloud has acquired the interests of Sundberg & Son in their shoe repair shop in the Pearce block, 306 South Broadway and formally opened for business on Friday noon.

Mr. Pearson was first attracted to Brainerd by its recreation facilities and bought a lot on Gull lake. Later he sold his large repair shop in St. Cloud where he employed three men and removed to Brainerd. He has installed all new shoe working equipment including a newly patented electrically heated stitcher. Finishes, burdisher, etc., are all electrically driven. Mr. Pearson comes highly recommended as a most capable workman. He brings to Brainerd his wife and two children. His investigation of the Brainerd field caused him to decide that this town was a good business center.

30 Days or $50 Fine

In municipal court before Judge J. H. Warner, Roy Warner of Chicago, former Brainerd resident, pleaded guilty to taking the bicycle of Knute Thoe and was sentenced to 30 days in jail or $50 fine.

Roy Gunion arrested at the same time, was held on the charge of carrying dangerous weapons and was bound over to the November term of the district court. His attorneys were Ryan & Ryan. The further charge against him of taking Thoe's wheel was dismissed.

Young Warner, said City Attorney Fullerton, has a reformatory school record. First sentenced to Red Wing for six months, he lengthened his term to four years and ten months by making 13 attempts to escape.

'LOST BATTALION' FOUND IN CUBA

MARINES HAVE BEEN STATIONED AT TOWN OF CAMAGUEY EVER SINCE AUGUST, 1917.

ROOSEVELT LEARNS REASON

Cuban Government Asked for Them to Protect Sugar Properties From Pro-German Plots, and There They Have Remained.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—A "lost battalion" of marines, six officers and 274 men, has been formally found by the Navy department. Since August, 1917, the battalion has been stationed at Camaguey, Cuba, in the very heart of the island, with no apparent reason for its being kept on such an assignment since the days of the war.

The discovery of the "missing" marines was made by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, after dint of much searching of records and inquiry among marine officers. The hunt was started as the result of the recent incident in Camaguey when marines kicked up some excitement in the Cuban town after Le Roy Foster, an American engineer and former navy officer had been attacked and beaten by Cubans.

"What are the marines doing in Camaguey?" Mr. Roosevelt asked himself, after looking at the map of Cuba. And the question was asked by others equally curious. Nobody seemed to know. Major General Lejeune, commandant of the corps said they were there all right, but could vouchsafe no additional information. The navy list showed marine officers regularly assigned to the Camaguey post, but the warrant for such duty seemed to be lacking.

Sent to Guard Sugar Properties.

Finally red-taped papers were found which showed that, back in 1917, shortly after Cuba entered the war on the heels of the United States, the Cuban government had requested the State department to permit the stationing of American marines at Camaguey to guard the great sugar properties there against pro-German plots. The American government, anxious to conserve the sugar supply, sent the marines from the Guantanamo naval base, and there they have been ever since. Only diplomatic negotiations probably can remove them. The Navy department and the marine corps will see that they are there until called off by the President.

Nurses' Training School.

Uncle Sam has just inaugurated a training school for nurses. The courses will be for four years, and the training will be under the direct supervision of the United States public health service, with headquarters in this city. Among the inducements to young women to enroll is the government's guarantee to house, feed and train them, besides the payment of $30 a month during the first three years, and $40 a month during the final year. The students also will be presented with diplomas when they become proficient, and will be given opportunities to assist in caring for disabled military patients.

The first schools are at Fort McHenry, Baltimore, and at Fox Hills, Staten Island. Other schools will be opened later in the year, and they will be conducted at certain hospitals of the public health service.

That the government is resolved to train thoroughly its nurses is evident from the advance notice of the opening, as made public by the public health service.

It states that the service hospitals provide experience in surgical nursing, including orthopedic, eye, nose and throat; medical, including communicable, nervous and mental diseases; X-ray and laboratory technique; experience in the diseases of children, and public health nursing. Gynecology and obstetrics will be provided in the second or third year of the course through affiliations with civilian hospitals. Lectures, recitations and laboratory work will be given in the required subjects in each hospital training school.

Paid Cat More Than Officer.

The fall of a Communist cat is being unkindly twisted. The Moscow Poyda has learned that a member of the Bolshevik central executive committee has discovered that the forest department at Kostroma had included an item of 15,000 rubles monthly for the support of a cat, defending the expenditure on the grounds that the cat keeps down the mice.

The Communist who brought this fact to the attention of the central authorities was doubly grieved because he himself received 1,500 rubles a month less than the cat. (Normally 15,000 rubles would be $7,725. Rubles now have virtually no exchange value.)

Cruel!

Husband—Have you ever met my wife?

Friend—No, I believe not.

Husband—You have the advantage of me.

Wild Speculation.

"Would you wed a man for money?" "No," replied Miss Cayenne. "As a mere form of investment a marriage certificate is even more uncertain than an oil stock certificate."

Refinishing Nickel Plating.

A new nickel-plating solution said to yield beautiful results is prepared by mixing the liquid obtained by evaporating a solution of one-half ounce nickel in aqua regia to a pasty mass and dissolving it in one pound of aqua ammonia, with that obtained by treating the same quantity of nickel with a solution of two ounces cyanide of potassium in one pound of water. More cyanide renders the deposit whiter and more ammonia renders it gray.

Condemned.

Well, we are all condemned as Victor Hugo says; we are all under sentence of death, but with a sort of indefinite reprieve... we have an interval, and then our place knows us no more. Some spend this interval in listlessness, some in high passions, the wisest, at least among the children of this world, in art and song."—Walter Pater, in The Renaissance.

PELLAGRA GETS WORSE IN SOUTH

SURGEON GENERAL CUMMING IN LETTER TO PRESIDENT CONFIRMS THIS VIEW.

ESSENTIAL FOODS LACKING

This Caused the Public Health Service to Use the Word "Famine" in a Scientific, Restricted Sense—One-Crop Farming Blamed.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Despite the indignant denials of some of the southern states, it appears likely that there will be a decided increase in the extent of pellagra in the South this year. Surgeon General Cumming, head of the public health service, recently sent to President Harding a letter which, it is declared, confirms this view.

The letter recounts that the conference of health officials which met recently in Washington had objected principally to the allegation that pellagra was on the increase, and that the increase was caused by a "famine."

"In so far as the use of the word 'famine' is concerned," Doctor Cumming wrote, "the public health service pointed out that it had used the term in a scientific, restricted sense, referring to a diet which lacked some essential elements of nutrition."

Doctor Cumming remarked that the state health officers present at the conference had voted against the following clause in a resolution submitted by one of their members: "We do not regard the situation in any sense as more serious than in the last several years."

Marked Increases Shown.

The letter said that, with the exception of Mississippi, no reliable morbidity statistics were available from the South, but that Mississippi figures showed pellagra had doubled in that state in the first six months of 1921.

A memorandum was attached to the White House statement embodying the letter from Doctor Cumming, as follows:

"Information indicates a definite increase of pellagra this year in Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas and probably North and South Carolina. Some evidence also indicates an increase in Georgia. In Kentucky and Virginia, testimony points to a decrease. Conservative estimates indicate 5,000 deaths and 100,000 cases of pellagra in the country in 1921."

Doctor Cumming said it had been brought out that, in various localities in the South, conditions were such that the essential foods required to prevent the development of pellagra were obtainable only with difficulty, and in some instances were entirely beyond the reach of the poorer working people. He explained that this situation had been brought about largely by the custom of one-crop farming.

Helping With Proper Food.

"It was gratifying to learn of the progress made largely through the efforts of the Department of Agriculture to bring about greater diversity in farm crops," the letter continued.

"The home demonstration agents have repeatedly pointed out the wisdom of farming only a single staple crop, while relying on the income from this to purchase necessary elements of diet, such as fresh vegetables, milk, eggs, chickens and fresh meats."

"Moreover, the fact was brought out that, although there has been some increase in dairying in the South, yet, as a result of the recent depression, many a struggling farmer in a mistaken sense of economy, has disposed of the family cow, a most important agent in pellagra prevention.

"The object aimed at by the public health service," Doctor Cumming told the President, "has undoubtedly been brought much nearer to attainment as a result of the splendid support given by your letter. It is gratifying to report that all the states feel able to meet any demands for emergency relief, without requiring any outside assistance, although requests were made that expert assistants be detailed from the public health service to the various state health offices."

Little Frank had been taught never to ask for things to eat, but when he accompanied a neighbor to the drug store the other evening he had to do some thinking. On his return home he was eating from a sack of peanuts, and his mother feared he had violated her instructions.

Chinese Superstition.

In some parts of China two coins are put into the sleeve of the dead, and are then shaken out, to test his satisfaction, or the reverse, at the arrangements made for his funeral and interment. If the coin falls with the side upward, it is taken as a sign of approval; if not, as a sign that something has been omitted.

Peanut Known as Goober Pea.

The territory of Tidewater Virginia grows more peanuts than any other part of the United States. To that territory may be added parts of the Carolinas, also great peanut-growing states. Some places in the Carolinas the peanut is referred to as 'the goober pea.'
